Why did Mr. Snyder turn his back on his Los Angeles admirers and go to Tri-arc for expressions of endorsement and laudation? Enormous as sweet, but he had no need to leave town for them. Los Angeles evidently claims Mr. Snyder as a bright and shining light by a large majority. It is a pleasant thing to be nominated for Governor amid the popping of corks and the clapping of hands, but Mr. Snyder might have had that pleasure down here. In fact, he might have been nominated for President if

BASEBALL PLAYERS.

The Al Levis won both games with the San Diego ball team Wednesday and Thursday. As in Saturday's game, the locals yesterday piled up six runs, and defeated the visitors, who failed to score.

The features were the excellent umpiring of Mr. Early and the mauling which put Chance, Chicago's star catcher, out of the game. This incident occurred during the fifth inning. Devereaux was pitching for all he knew when Chance failed to see a fast one in time to duck. The ball struck him on the left side of the head, knocking him to the ground, and it was several minutes before he could be removed to the dressing room. Later, he was taken to the California Hospital, where last evening he was reported to be resting nicely.

Grand stand and bleachers were taxed to their limit yesterday, and both teams were well supported. San Diego was the first to bat, with Devereaux up. He went out on a short fly, and was followed by Bowman, who also went out. Drennan failed to make good, and the Levis moved up.

The first ball pitched to Harvey was a strike. Harvey bunted a slow one, but was put out at first. Hart banged a liner to Van Horn, but the latter dropped it. Steinfield dropped a safe one, which Barclay failed to get under. Dungan then put one through short field, filling the bases. Chance on coming to bat was cheered heartily. Chance was batted to hit her out, and he placed a safe one along the third base line, bringing in two runs. Lohman went out to Bowman on an easy fly, and Chance was run down. No other runs were made until the last half of the third. In that inning the Levis added two more. Hart was the first up. He took his base on a safe one, and was followed by Steinfield, who hit to Barclay, who made a bungle of it. Taylor then let a hot one by. In the third, Hart scored, Steinfield going to third.

The next fully was made in the sixth inning, when two more were placed to the credit of the locals. These runs were made as follows: Payne dropped a safe one to left. Devereaux, after fumbling an easy one by Devis, got the ball to first ahead of Payne going to second. Barclay then let a hot one by. In the sixth, Harvey went out at first. Payne scored and Berg going to third. Hart hit a little one to Donlin, and St. Louis served played "feather" with R. Louis. Donlin then got Steinfield's fly near the bleachers.

The score follows:

SIX-DAY BIKERS.
AFTER THE RACES WERE OVER. BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M. NEW YORK, Dec. 16.—The six-day bicycle races were today suffering severely from the effects of their hard riding. Several of the bachelors were test upon their systems, particularly their nerves, that sleep was almost an impossibility for some of them last night. Devereaux was in much worse condition than the others, owing to his fall Saturday afternoon. His right knee gave him considerable trouble today.

McFarland is at the hospital, but expects to be out in four days. Eike's manager stated that his man was in fair condition. He slept well all night, and was partook of a hearty breakfast. He accounted for Eike's good condition by saying that Eike had not been given any drugs or stimulants.

Turville and Aronson, who were taken to the hospital on account of injuries sustained by their complete exhaustion, will probably be out in a few days.

COLUMBIA VS. CALIFORNIA. (BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) BERKELEY, Dec. 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Manager Hutchinson of the University of California eleven today received word from the California team that they would not go to a Christmas football game in San Francisco. No answer to the challenge came today, but Hutchinson expects one tomorrow. That the offer will be accepted, he feels confident. The Columbia manager has at all times expressed his readiness to come out to the Coast and play either California or Stanford on any favorable terms. The offer of the closing of California's season will see two games moved today when Hutchinson received word from Los Angeles that grounds can be secured there for a match between the two teams. The match is therefore all set for Saturday, and only Columbia's formal acceptance is necessary to make it certain that the Coast will see two games between California and one of the best eastern eleven.

The Jack Jevne stock is going up. Yesterday he put out his rake and drew in his hands a pile of points. William Jevne is responsible for three of them. The remaining two are of old order. Jevne lost two from Earl, and now, with nine games played, is two points to the good.

Until yesterday's sun had mounted to its meridian Lines had earned the unexpected right to hold his mighty left hand aloft and swear by Pook Bah and all the other Baha that there was only one gold and Sterling C was his. Jevne's stock was about time when Jack Jevne peaked round the eastern eleven.

VELODROME RACES.
NEW WORLD'S RECORD MADE. There were many empty seats at the Velodrome yesterday afternoon, and the sport was full of excitement. John Nelson and Isadore Cohn decided honors.

Cohn, in the mile amateur handicap, defeated all the cracks, and showed a sprint that shook dust in their eyes. He outspurred John Lake of New York and did it in good style.

Nelson placed a new world's record to his credit as the result of his fifteen-mile match race with Gus Lawson.

It was the second meeting of these speedy men in a fifteen-mile motor-paced race. Lawson defeated Nelson in their first meeting, but today, at the time framed up a world's record, making the ride in 23:14.

Yesterday the New York boy seemed to enjoy his innings, and not only made a trial of his hand, but also landed "three flush," but he also landed "three flush" from the record made by the Swede.

Lawson, the best of the start and rode in good form for a mile. Nelson then set a hotter clip, and tried twice to pass the Swede, but failed each time. A third attempt was unsuccessful, and with a burst of speed that was too hot for Lawson he began to overtake his opponent.

At that stage Lawson showed the best of his speed, and gave Nelson a yellow. He lost his pace and gave Nelson a yellow. He lost his pace and gave Nelson a yellow.

since then had done but little work, on account of old age, 80 years.

The third person wounded in the attack was Frank Rangel, a laborer. He was in a crowd of men about 100 yards south of the Arrata house. When he heard the first shot, he stepped out of his house and ran toward the street. When Arrata ran out into the street and fired at Marshal Barretto, Rangel happened to be in front of him, and received several bullets in his leg and arm. The wounds being painful, but not serious.

Lena Arrata suffered considerable pain from her wounded arm yesterday afternoon, and last evening her brother, Louis, brought her to this city to have the bullet extracted.

INQUEST TODAY. The body of Arrata was removed to Glendene's undertaking establishment in Santa Monica, and an inquest will be held there by the coroner this morning. The dead man was a native of Portugal.

A WOMAN'S SHOOTING. She has counted six and over. Of a pure, well filled, and a heart well tried.

Oh, each a worthy lover! They "give her time," for her soul must slip.

Where the world has set the grooving; She will lie to none with her fair red lip.

But love seeks truer loving. Go, lady, lean to the night guitar, And drop a smile to the bridge.

Then smile as sweetly, when he is far, At the voice of an indoor singer. Blank tenderly beneath tender eyes; Gaze lightly on their remover.

And join new vows to old perjuries— But dare not call it loving. Unless you can think, when the song is done, No other is soft in the rhythm; Unless you can feel, when left by one, That all men else go with him; Unless you can know, when unpaired by his breath, That your beauty itself wants proving.

Unless you can swear "For life, for death!"— Oh, fear to call it loving! Unless you can muse in a crowd all day, On the absent face that fixed you; Unless you can love, as the angels love, With the breadth of heaven betwixt you; Unless you can dream that his faith is fast, Through behaving and unbehaving; Unless you can die when the dream is past— Oh, never call it loving!

ELIZABETH E. BROWING.

Remorse. [Detroit Journal.] The braves of the tribe were in no small degree perturbed when they learned that the beautiful daughter of their chief had fallen in love with somebody at the fort.

"Of course," said they, "it is now up to us to form a plot to massacre the whites, in order that this young person may give the name of Arrata to the Indian has long figured in romance and it is perhaps not surprising that he has come at last to participate in its traditions and aspirations.

RAINFALL COMING.

Special Warning Sent Out from San Francisco—Not in Sight Yet, but is Due Today.

It's going to rain. At least the local observer of the United States Weather Bureau said so last evening. The information which he gave out was heard, however, for he heard it from another man. He had good reason for believing the story, for it came by wire direct from Chief Forecast Official McAdoo of San Francisco, who is in charge of the work of the Weather Bureau on the Pacific Coast. The prospects of rain here must be good, for unless there is an excellent chance Mr. McAdoo does not send out special telegrams on Sunday. The fact that the indications here did not show that there was a drop of rain within a thousand miles of Los Angeles did not cause the local observer to doubt his special information, for that would be disloyalty, and then again Mr. McAdoo knows much more about weather matters than any of the local observers.

Mr. McAdoo's telegram was in the following words: "I desire to advise you of a heavy storm off the Oregon coast. There will probably be rain south of the Tehachapi tonight and Monday."

The observer here was somewhat surprised to receive such a message, for his instrument did not show any signs of an approaching storm. It had not then "entered his division," as a rain dispatcher would say. The observation made at 5 p.m. yesterday showed the barometric pressure of 29.6 (reduced to sea level), a temperature of 62 deg., and a very light wind from the west.

"These conditions are normal," said the man who has charge of the delicate instruments in the top floor of the Wilson Block, "and in themselves they do not indicate the approach of a storm. One indication of an atmospheric disturbance, however, is to be found in the fact that the barometer here was lower this morning than it was at San Diego, and this evening the difference was more marked. This shows that we are nearer an area of low barometer than is San Diego, and in the light of the special notice we have received from the north, it is a slight confirmation of that information. On Sunday we do not receive the readings from northern points, and, of course, we cannot tell what is happening north. The San Francisco office receives reports from all along the Coast every day of the week, and unless there was almost a certainty of rain here such a message would not have been sent."

At 3 o'clock this morning the sky was clear, and there was not a cloud in sight. The only thing to indicate that rain might be expected was the fact that the barometer was lower than it was at dark last evening.

MOUNTED HIGHWAYMEN.

German Pedestrian Compelled to Give Up His Money to Three Men a Mile East of the City.

A German pedestrian was held up and robbed by three mounted men on East Seventh street, near Calvary Cemetery, a mile east of the city limits, just before 9 o'clock last evening. The robbers secured $1.50 from the pockets of their victim, and then dismissed him. He was within a stone's throw of his home when held up. Superintendent L. le Grande of the Calvary Cemetery telephoned the affair to Captain of Detectives Bradish, and Detectives Shields and Talmant were sent to the victim's home last night to secure a description of the robbers.

The German was walking to his home when he was met by three men, each pointing a revolver at him. The robbers were standing in the road and holding their horses by the bridles. One of the three ordered the pedestrian to "give up" and when the other two kept him covered with their revolvers the first man searched his pockets.

CHARGED WITH PETTY LARCENY. M. R. Woodward was arrested late last evening by Detective Hawley, charged with petty larceny. He is accused of stealing a gold watch and a pocketbook containing $15 from O. A. Welden of No. 305 West Thirty-ninth street. Woodward came to Los Angeles a few days ago from Cotton, and has been staying with Welden. Saturday night he is said to have been camped with the property of his roommate. He did not have the stolen property on his person when arrested, but the detective says he has promised to take Hawley to it this morning.
